The 13th street entrance, though actually a side door, has turned out to be the major passageway for most students. Through the years, entering by way of this door also has become a habit with the townspeople.

CORNER OF 13TH AND LINCOLN . . .

This is the high school. Situated on the corner of 13th and Lincoln streets, it is virtually the heart of a thriving community. Every day students come from every corner of Anderson and its surrounding territory to learn and to train for their daily and future needs.

They learn and at the same time go out in the community and intersperse their book-learning with the practical knowledge gained by mingling with others in jobs and activities. In doing this one creates a knowledge which could be obtained in no other way. Through this channel AHS plays an all-important part in building and maintaining a better community.

Walking halls, a time-honored tradition at AHS, is the main channel for gathering the morning gossip. Here, Mrs. Lee Imel and Mrs. Raymond Campbell enjoy it too on Parents' Visitation Day.

The AHS gymnasium at sectional time serves as a meeting place for all interested Anderson citizens. It has been, and will continue to be a setting for many thrilling and spectacular local events.

TO EVERY OUTLYING SUBURB

An important cornerstone of the student-community life is the family. Cooperation is illustrated as the Dee Wilson family engages in spring clean-up.

The arms of Anderson High School are many and far reaching. They extend from the heart of downtown Anderson to the most remote section of the city. As they expand they affect nearly every citizen.

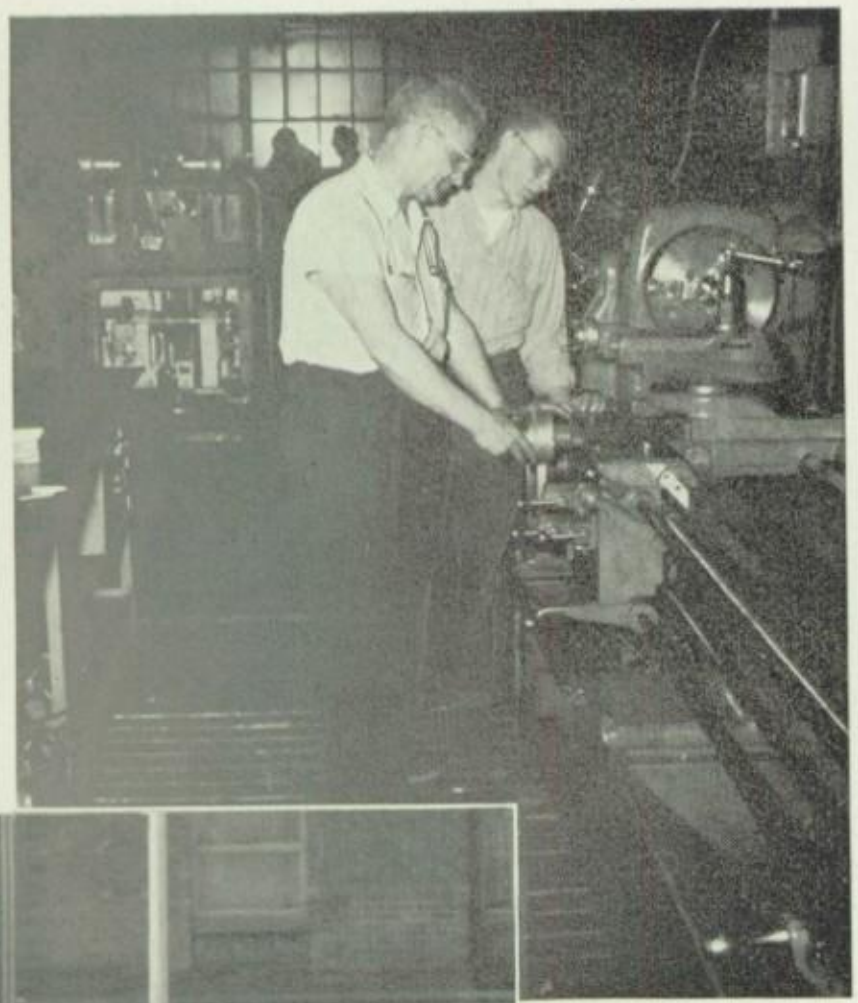
Together, the people who make up these arms are connected with anything one could mention. No matter whether at church, home or work, AHS citizens are learning more each day to help in forming a more perfect community. The churches, parks and homes play a big part in introducing the young people to their community and the task of making it a better one.

In a similar process the school co-operates by training the people who make up the heart of the Anderson body.

Students scurry to do business with downtown stores and restaurants on their lunch hours as well as after school.

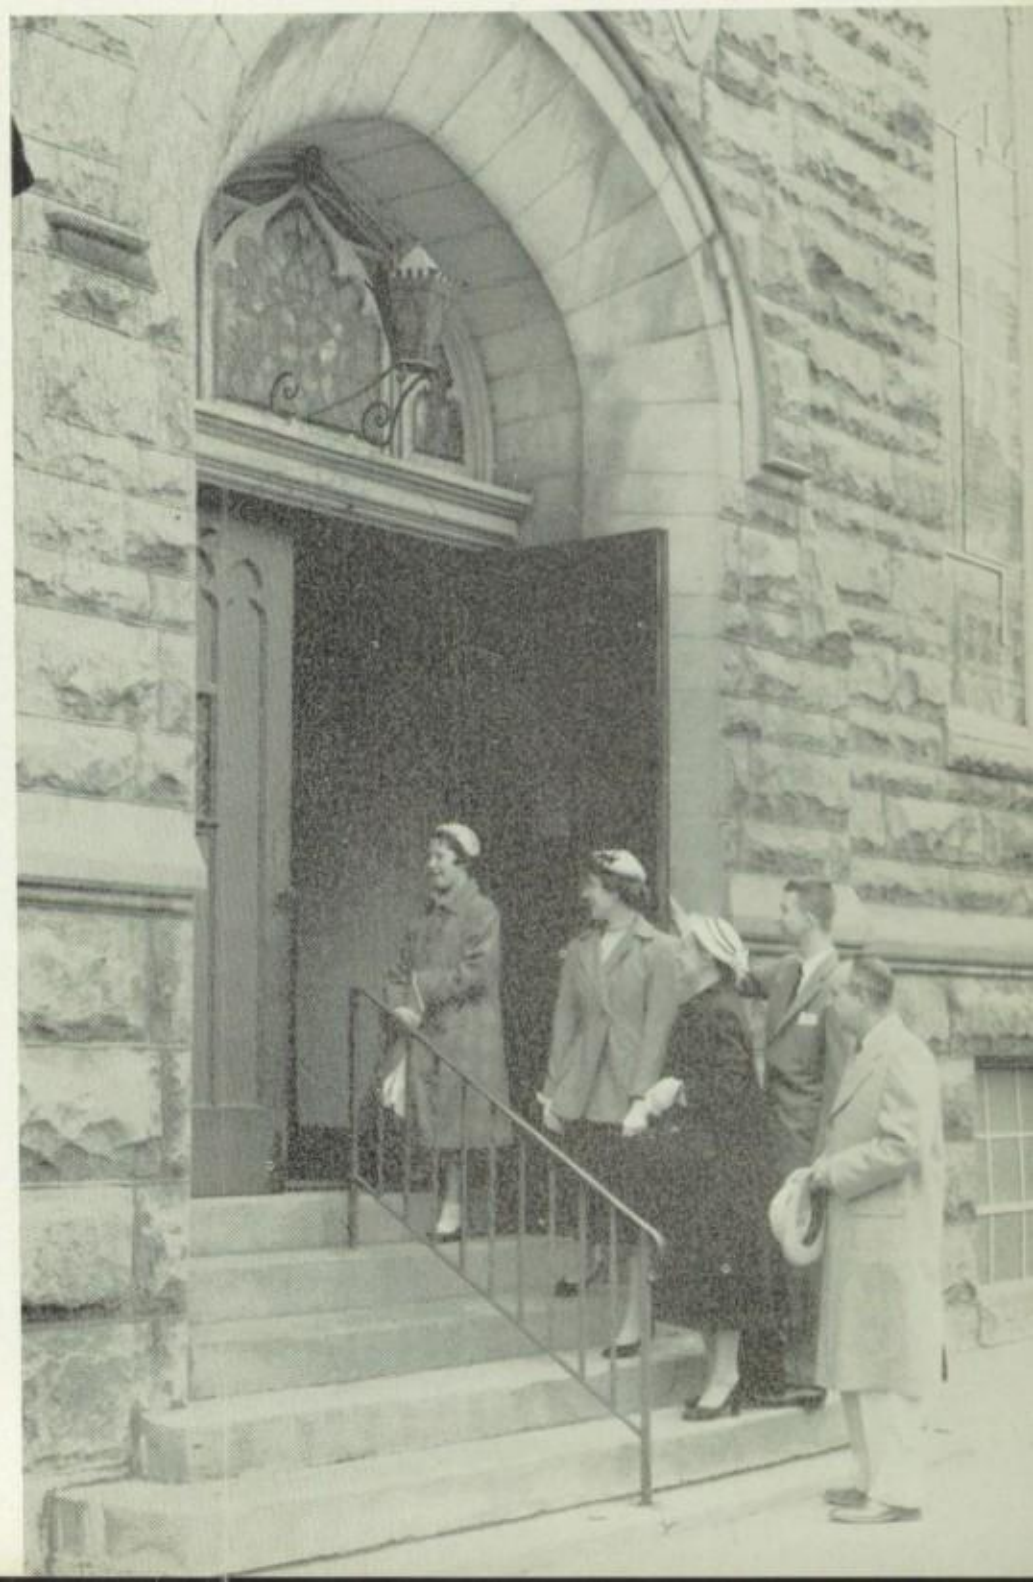
GO 2,600 AHS STUDENTS . . .

Typical of many students, Vicki Timmons and Ronnie Meeker find enjoyment offered through facilities in the city parks.



The far reaching arm of community cooperation extends to industry. Mr. Paul Williams explains the technicalities of lathe operation to senior, Kenny Willis, an apprentice.

The religious aspect of the student-community life is well demonstrated as the Max Bales family enters church.



TAKING WITH THEM KNOWLEDGE

Learning to measure and be accurate in every detail according to the instructions of Mr. Raymond Griffith is part of the work practiced by Myron Reichart, Roy Quinton and Richard Tinsley.

Another class in which accuracy can not be stressed too much is this one where Keith Tracy, Shirley Butler, and Dave Byrne mix chemicals.

GAINED IN CLASSROOMS . . .

Offering learning is probably the most important over-all way in which AHS contributes to the city. Within the classroom, students have the opportunity to gather much valuable and technical information which will be of immediate value to them. It is through this learning that students are able to take their places as easily as they do.

Even the small things count, such as typing a letter or baking a cake for someone in the family. When the final bell rings dismissing them from their daily class routines, high school citizens go forth to work and serve in their community with what they have gathered.

It may be difficult, but this is the place to learn and practice as Louise Smith is doing under the supervision of Mr. Herbert Lyon.

An unusual type of classroom, in comparison with others, is where the vocational home economics course is conducted. Nancy Steiner, Nina Watkins and Pat Stanley are carrying out an assignment in the modern, well-equipped kitchen.

CONTRIBUTING TO THE CULTURAL

Ramona Romine and Ricky Braden, of Middletown, share in the Veteran's Day program presented by the high school. The fathers of both children died in Korea.

The courthouse square set the scene for the Veterans' Day commemoration ceremony in which the band and Choral Club participated.

LIFE OF THEIR COMMUNITY . . .

Preparing a lesson in democracy, which was displayed in downtown stores, are two art students, Jim Leverette and Sherry Couch.

Students of AHS are already making their contacts with the community through various activities. As they make these contacts they also lend a certain cultural air to the city.

Many times each year pupils are called upon to provide services and entertainment for this flourishing community. Whether it be an indirect service or providing direct enjoyment for the people, AHS serves the community well.

It is seldom that a day goes by in which each individual is not affected by the high school. And so it is that every day some small amount of culture is added to Anderson by the school via its services.

Giving the grade students a chance to enjoy the only live theatre most of them see during the year, the Thespians presented their fourth annual children's play. Shown at the left is the cast of "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater,"—Dick Williams. Barbara Huffman, Sue Shaul, Sandi Gilliam, Martha Marsh, Donna Wilhelm, and in front, Thea Phelps, Dennis Malone, and Alice Day. Between acts the "theatre goers" were entertained by the "bookmark", Thea Phelps.

DRAMATIZING THE EDUCATIVE

Convocations serve as a meeting place for ideas of the community and students with the ultimate goal of developing citizens of tomorrow. Convo speaker, Dr. Harry McKowen, noted educator, expressed this when he said; "Many people think the main purpose of education is to produce scholars. This community is not made up of scholars, but of citizens."

Behind many convocations lies the community which contributes much to make these programs a vital part of school life.

Becoming a success in spite of handicaps, Pruth McFarland, tenor soloist, offered living proof of what hard work can accomplish.

Not all the convos were strictly entertainment. A reminder of religion served as the theme for the Thanksgiving program. Speakers were Jim Lutton, Sarah Hopping, Janice Clevenger, Dianne Achor and Jerry Stump.

PROCESS THROUGH CONVOS . . .

Illustrating the opportunities and advantages offered in high school were student speakers at Parents' Visitation Day during American Education Week.

Every attempt to present a variety of programs was made this year by the convocations committee. Some were planned entirely for entertainment while others were scheduled for education and information.

Music culture was provided by AHS groups, choirs of Kokomo and Seymour High Schools, and the versatile Dungill family.

Other convos of prominence were the award and honor days, Thanksgiving, appearance of Eagle Plume, and the Christmas convo.

Working together, the students and faculty provide convocations which give all 2,600 the chance to participate. Tom Toombs, Susie Kirkman and Dick Monroe do their part in putting more meaning in school spirit.

The Pep Sessions Committee climaxed its work by planning the events for the annual Red and Green Week. Halls were decorated; scream rallies were held in the auditorium before school in which basketball players were introduced.

Vote was taken for Miss Red and Mr. Green who would rule during Sectional Week. Two candidates from each class were chosen after eliminations by the executive committees on the basis of best school spirit and sportsmanship. For the first time all eight reigned as Miss Red and Mr. Green and added much to the spirit of the week.

Complete with tomahawk and dressed in feathers and buckskin, this small Indian displayed by the Pep Sessions Committee was representative of the traditions of AHS.

PLANNED BY STUDENT LEADERS . . .

For the first time at AHS, Alice in Wonderland visited at the student talent convocation in January. "Through the Looking Glass" was the theme for the variety show. The acts were introduced by master of ceremonies, Paul Keller, as they stepped from the magic mirror.

Just like in the book, one of the first characters to hop through the mirror was the white rabbit. Following closely behind it was Alice, played by Thea Phelps.

A Wonderland was brought to the eyes of the audience of students and guests as the wide array of talent stepped forth. The program consisted of sixteen acts which all proved to be of interest to those watching. Everything from pantomines to Indian dancers rounded out the show.

Getting an inside story of Wonderland from the White Rabbit, Marjorie Ashcraft, is Bob Thompson after the student talent show. Lingering for a final glance before returning to classes, students listen to Joe Hunt on the drums.

ALL LEADING TO SPECTACULAR

Indian maiden, Susie Kirkman, and mascot, Tom Toombs, display their talents in an Indian war dance during halftime of a basketball game. Forth from the Indian teepee (lower picture) comes Coach Ick Osborne at the pep session before the regional. Watching the entrance of the basketball coach are Tom Toombs, Lucius Teague, Alvin Woods, Ronald Spall.

The traditions of the "Indians" of Anderson High School are indebted to Chief Anderson, in whose memory the spirit and show of emotions of this school were established.

In 1922 there was a civic and community revival of the Great Spirit of Chief Anderson. For the first time, the wearers of the "Red and Green" were referred to as the "Indians."

Just before tournament time in 1940, the Indians' fans had a real live Indian mascot who was dressed in all the regalia of his red-blooded forefathers. Since that day there has not been an Anderson football or basketball team that has taken the field or floor without being led by their mascot. In recent years, an Indian maiden has been added making these two a familiar couple at pep sessions as well as at sports events.

AHS has long been known for the pep and vitality which it expresses when it supports its athletic teams. This success is largely dependent upon the excellent cheerleaders chosen in the spring of each year. These cheerleaders, along with the mascots, led school spirit and encouraged the teams.

SHOWS OF STUDENT EMOTION . . .

Calm, cool and collected as the cheerleaders look in the picture is quite a different pose from what they are usually in. They were described by Mr. Carl Bonge as "some of the finest we have ever had. I never saw a group so loyal, so intent and so interested." The cheerleaders are: Dick Monroe and Dick Sacilowski. Standing: Gay Babcoke, Pat Davis, Joan Lowry and Linda Mitchell.

Putting everything into a show of school spirit, the students yelled at the pep sessions throughout the school year. Working so hard that her arms moved faster than the camera lens, Joan Lowry is displaying the energy common to all the cheerleaders during the sports events.

Agatha Reed, played by Betty Stiner (sixth from left), accepted the flowers from the girls representing different college organizations and gave a polite word of thanks to (L. to R.) Dick Monroe, Dianne Achor, Dave Byrne, Bob Huntley, Jane Huntzinger, Judy Kabrich, Marcia Barron, Rosada Shaw, Cathy Bowen, Mary Wishard, Jack Ravage, Betty Imel, John Mitchell, Shirli Wagner, Darline Blackwell and Sharolyn Rossen.

This year Andersonians witnessed a thought-provoking play as portrayed by the AHS Senior Dramatics class. The three act comedy, "Goodbye My Fancy," put forth the idea that people should be firm in their convictions.

Directed by Miss Alice Higman, the play told of a famous news columnist, Agatha Reed, who returned to her college to receive an honorary degree.

While she was there, conflicts and decisions presented themselves and posed real problems. All comes out well, though, and the play ends in happiness as it should.

The crew chairmen were (L. to R.) Bob Thompson, light; Gene Lisby, stage; Ronnie Ross, art; Judy Sharp, prompter; Ann Fishback, props; Bill Smith, stage manager; Margaret Alexander, student director, and Dick Sacilowski, tickets.

THAT ARE EVER MEMORABLE . . .

This year's graduating class voted to have four seniors give commencement speeches instead of a professional speaker.

For the graduating seniors, the baccalaureate and commencement are not only looked upon as the end of high school but as the beginning of a life that will soon unfold before them. At this time of mixed emotions, graduates reminisce over the occasions which led up to this night of June 9, 1955.

Gowned in their class colors of navy blue and white, seniors received their diplomas and took their place in the Anderson community.

Chosen from tryouts to represent the 1955 class are the commencement speakers. The students and their subjects are Jim McDanell, "Our Defense Against Communism;" Thea Phelps, "Seedlings of Reality;" Jerry Stump, "Our Democratic Heritage;" and Barbara Fish, "A Penny's Worth of Freedom."

In traditional mortar boards and gowns, the 1955 seniors, along with parents and friends, listened attentively as the big moment came to a climax. When the orchestra played "Pomp and Circumstance," the graduates marched down the aisles to go their separate ways

A SINGLE HIGH SCHOOL AND

This town is closely connected with AHS. Activities of the school attract wide interest and popularity with citizens in all walks of life.

The community learns more about what goes on at high school through student organizations which provide entertainment for the town. Vocal and instrumental groups, speakers and variety shows offer a wide selection of entertainment for civic and church groups.

One of the outstanding ways in which the city and school are closely united is through its sports. An estimated 75,000 spectators attend athletic contests at AHS, and most of them cheer for the Indians. The school and its athletes in turn are eager to put on a good show.

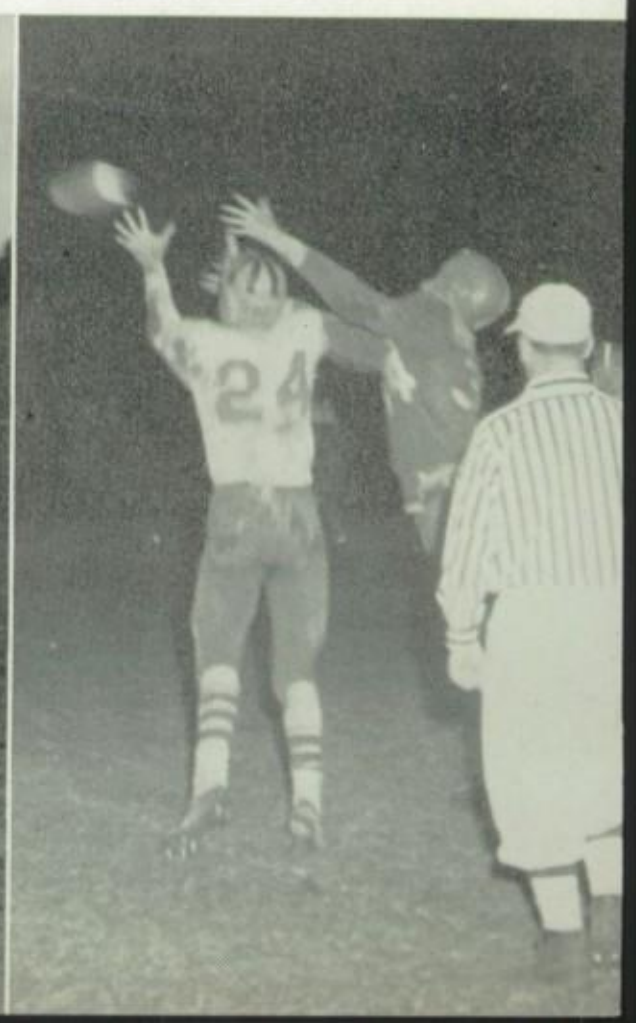
A surprisingly large crowd, for cross country, looks on as Jim Quinn finishes first in a dual cross country meet (left picture).



Anderson rooters cheered as Jack Jarvis (24) stretches high to intercept a pass while the referee nonchalantly watches.

AN INDIANA TOWN UNITED . . .

Jubilant John Mitchell, Tom Byrum and Bob Loose accept the first prize from Tom Gephart, of the Rotary club, for the winning float in the Homecoming Parade. The float represented the senior class.

In what better way does the community show the unity it has with the school than by expressing the closeness with help and friendship.

Home bound students now have classes brought to their bedside by a community-sponsored telephone system. Townsfolk contributed $7,000 to send the high school band to Washington D. C., where they represented the city in the national Cherry Blossom Festival parade.

Service clubs and other organizations sponsored contests and scholarships which promoted desirable traits. Lessons in citizenship are gained through city-donated voting machines and participation in mock assemblies.

Money came from far and wide to send the AHS band to Washington D. C. to play in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival. The best part of the funds, however, were solicited from good natured, school-minded shoppers on the Band Tag Day.

EXCHANGING NEWS, PROMOTING

The rough-and-tumble annual staff basketball team stumbled to a 33 to 25 victory over the X-Ray team in the first publications basketball game. The team—Row I: "Hands-off" Jim Hancock, "Boy Scout" Bill Smith, "Frail" Fred Spenser, "Jumbo" John Mitchell and "Rockin" Ron Partain. Row II: Cheerleaders, Thea Prelps, Pat Gouldsbery, Lorna Craigie, Teddy Pancol, also official timer; Janet Busby, and Marge George, both official scorers. Mr. Frank Woschitz, coach of the annual team, refereed the game.

EACH OTHER . . .

The journalism department of high school and the publications of the community work hand in hand exchanging news and promoting each other.

The X-Ray, whose slogan is "Seeing Through Life At AHS" proved this year that it lived up to its motto as well as covering life in the community. The X-Ray informed the school of coming events, latest school news and articles concerning contests, programs and other occasions sponsored by the city or community.

Setting an all-time record of 2,350 sales was one of the accomplishments of the 1955 Indian staff. They were among the most community-minded students in the school since they were constantly searching for points at which the school and community touched, in connection with the theme of this year's book.

WHOSE TRIUMPHS ARE GAINED . . .

Miss Sherry Bill

Entering on gangplanks, charming couples stepped through a magnificent lifesaver composed of delicate blossoming flowers. Thus the Junior Prom of 1955 set sail to the theme of "Anchors Aweigh."

Swaying palms and tremendous gold fish nets decorated with sea shells and coral enclosed the orchestra of Will Hauser. Music was played through the evening that will be memorable to those who danced at the most elaborate affair of the whole year.

Highlighting the Prom was the crowning of the 1955 Prom Queen which took place on a glittering throne. Miss Nancy Gentry, chosen by junior boys, was crowned with a brilliant rhinestone tiara. Miss Pat Stratton and Miss Sherry Bill, the two attendants who accompanied Nancy, were on each side of the Queen.

At the pinnacle of the throne was a ship's steering wheel which glistened and sparkled in the glimmering lights. Fringing the platform were two treasure chests flowing with pieces of eight.

The Junior Prom took place on June 3 in Linder's Marine Room and Roof Gardens where hard-working juniors made the 1955 dance a success.

BY DEMOCRATIC

The night of the Homecoming football game turned cold and bitter but majorettes Phyllis Baker and Marge Ellis remained cheerful and bouyant through the worst of it.

Local automobile dealers showed top community cooperation by lending space in their establishments for decorators to do their jobs. Latin club members displayed a chariot on their float.

Indians Linda Garrett, Ron Achor, Judy Duncan, Mary Morrison, Jim Eutsler, and Don Zank pull their blankets up closely for the ride through town to the stadium.

PROCESS . . .

Opening the social season was the annual Fall Windup Dance in honor of the football and cross country squads. Smiling as she proudly holds her bouquet is the queen of the dance, Anita Hughes. Surrounding Anita are Julie Hull, attendant; Nyles Anson and Tom Pettigrew, football co-captains; Nancy Gentry, attendant; and Bob Loose, senior president.

Blue-eyed Beverly Duncan, though not quite up to the 5 foot 2 inches of the song, was everyone's gal when she reigned as queen of the Sweetheart Ball in February (left picture).

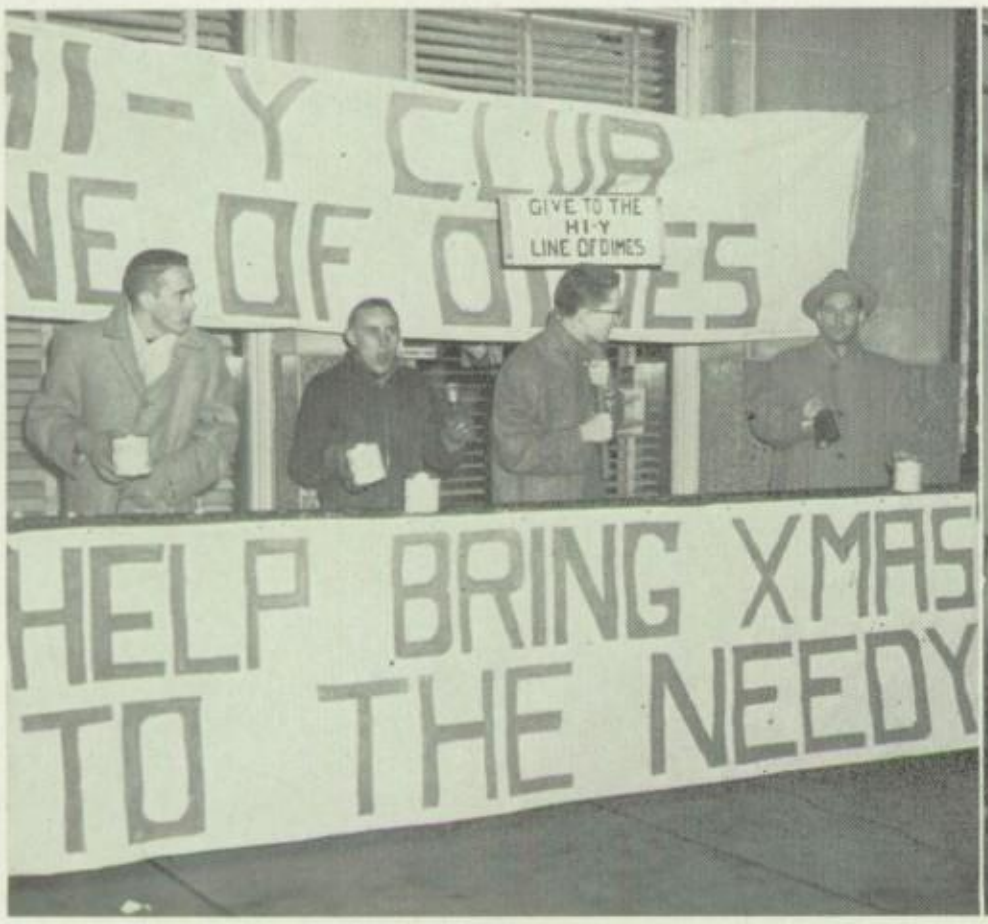
Looking as if she were in a dreamland all her own, Betty Pryor is being crowned Silver Belle Queen with a garland of flowers by Ruth Ward, Senior Y-Teens president (right picture).

Changing about for one evening, a king was elected at the Beau Brummell dance. Linda Granger admiringly watches her date, Jack Coffin, as Janet Busby crowns him with the symbolic top hat.

AS THEY SEEK A FULLER LIFE

The annual Torch Club Sunrise Service on Easter Sunday created a religious feeling as high-schoolers, parents, and members of the community rose in the morning to worship together.

IN A HOOSIER COMMUNITY.



Yelling at the top of their lungs and ringing bells, members of the Hi-Y Club strive to serve the community. Line of Dime workers are Ronnie Meeker, Barry Gaar, Dave Sheedy and Mr. David Adams, sponsor.

As the technician gives the "on the air" signal, Jim Kirkman, Jim McDannell and Jayne Gardner prepare to give Andersonians the high school slant on world problems.

Willingness to serve a Hoosier community describes the students of AHS. Throughout the whole year, they are sought by citizens to contribute to funds and projects. Students are not only asked but many times show initiative and cooperation by starting out on their own.

Christmas parties for needy and orphan children and clothing drives are promoted by high school clubs.

Shining eyes of some of the happy children are reward enough for fifty-two members of the Future Retailers Club who played Santa Claus at the orphans' home. In the group were Linda Mitchell, Sherry Couch and Sally Stultz.

PEOPLE ARE ANDERSON'S STRENGTH

A town's strength lies not in its well-paved streets, its industries of steel and brick, or its impassive bank, but rather in the muscle and heart of its population.

The Anderson High School personalities are part of that muscle and heart. Some are weak, some strong, a few callous, many more possessing deep sympathies. They stroll through tree-covered streets and speed along open highways. They laugh at the comedian and ponder the intellectual.

In short they live a normal life, and in doing so they come in contact with the community. This time the meeting place is in the realm of personality. The character, molded in the high school, reaches the town every time a student tells of a learning experience or asks a puzzling question.

Actual contribution by youth may seem nebulous, but ideas have a way of becoming solid with the addition of a very few years of experience in life.

Teaching is a full time job, but many AHS teachers spread themselves thinner in order to participate in community affairs. Here Mr. J. J. Bailey is conducting a group of Madison County youngsters through the State House in Indianapolis where he served as a representative in the state legislature this year.

A familiar drama (right picture) that unfolds every day in the high school is depicted by Karen Veazey and Jack Coffin. A passing glance, a word, and a friendship is made. In the background is the ever-guiding teacher personified in this case by a benevolent dean, Mr. Davd Adams, who, though he seems to be swooping down on them, certainly will not interfere.

Mr. John Paul Huffman, Principal

Anderson High School's enrollment went over the 2,600 mark this year, largest total in AHS history. Space was at a premium, and schedules tight.

This was the task that John Paul Huffman undertook as new principal of AHS.

Mr. Huffman received his A. B. degree from Manchester College, and his M. A. from Indiana University.

Already involved in community activities as a member of Lions Club, Mr. Huffman also likes travel, science, and mathematics.

New Administrators Tackle Job With Enthusiasm and Courage

Bob Loose, senior class president; Mr. John Paul Huffman, Janice Stagg, senior class treasurer, and Mr. James E. Allen discuss a phase of senior week activity as the administration and student body work together.

Mr. James E. Allen, Assistant Principal

Mr. James E. Allen made a terrific switch in allegiance this year when he took the job of assistant principal after being principal at Elwood High School, AHS's chief county rival.

It was a difficult move because Mr. Allen is quite a fan, listing sports as his chief interest along with reading and traveling.

A teacher and administrator for 19 years, Mr. Allen received a B. S. degree from Central Normal College and an M. A. from Ball State.

Mr. G. E. Ebbertt
Superintendent of Public Schools

No where does the community and the high school work more closely together than at meetings of the Board of School Trustees, where a group of public spirited citizens decide public school policy.

Anderson's school building program has grown tremendously during the last few years. Most of the building has been in the grade and junior high schools but has had its effect on the high school by sending better prepared students to AHS.

Latest project is the South Side Junior High building whose completion will bring a plan calling for six years in the grades, three years in junior high, and three in the senior high.

The new setup, which should decrease the record enrollment in AHS this year, is another move by the board and the Anderson community to increase an individual's educational opportunities in the high school.

Anderson's Public Spirited Citizens Formulate School Policy

Board of School Trustees—Mr. Gordon A. France, treasurer; Mr. G. E. Ebbertt, superintendent; Miss Gertrude Plotner, clerk; Mrs. Margaret Knight, board member; Mrs. M. Fern Canterbury, secretary; Dr. Gordon B. Wilder, president; Mr. William F. Hovermale, board member, and Mr. C. D. Rotruck, school city attorney, visit the Anderson High School building.

Administration Guides Students Through Life at High School

Guiding students through high school life is the work of the administration. At Anderson High School the job is divided among many offices and persons.

Programs, and class schedules for 2,700 students all stem from the high school office where the registrar, Mrs. Marjorie Austin, holds sway. The office continues to serve students after graduation, sending transcripts of credits to colleges and answering all kinds of information for prospective employers.

Two other administrators, the deans of boys and girls, probably deal personally with more students than any other school officials. The absence line alone includes almost every student at some time during the year. Mr. David Adams was in his first year as dean at AHS, leaving a similar post at Central Junior High. Mrs. Edna Rhynearson has been Dean of Girls for four years.

Finally to the Athletic Director, Mr. Carl Bonge, falls the task which some feel is the most pleasant part of high school life, the scheduling of athletic events in eight sports.

Secretaries, Custodians Responsible for School Efficiency

Administrative secretaries handle high school's tons of paper work—(L. to R.) Mrs. Jo Ann Ballentine, Mrs. Mildred Huncilman, Mrs Carolyn Miller, Mrs. Maxine Hunt, Mrs. Mary Norris, Mrs. Barella Gray.

After-dinner Gossip - - The faculty women's club held its annual mid-winter meeting this year at Critchley's. Miss Dorothy Campbell narrated films of her trip to Europe, and the AHS teachers caught up on the year's news. At one of the tables (L. to R.) were Mrs. Helen Hughes, Miss Virginia Lindstrom, Mrs. Mary McFarland, Miss Helen Harrell, and Miss Hazel Kendall.

Faculty Row -- It Lives and Dies With the Indians

Section G is teacher's rooting section—For as many years as the Indians have been playing in the Wigwam, members of the faculty have occupied seats at the north end of the gym. Usually one of the noisiest spots when the Redskins are winning, the section takes on a gloomy air when a game appears lost.

Seniors Cement Lasting Friendships In Final Year at AHS

As seniors, we stepped over the portals of AHS with feelings of honor and surprise at finally becoming the "Big Wheels."

The year was filled with activity as we... worked together on the winning Homecoming float...recalled frosh memories as we returned to Butler Fieldhouse with the Indians... presented the Senior Class Play, "Goodbye My Fancy"...endured weeks of marching practice ...all stepping stones to that final event—firmly cemented by the strong leadership of our officers, executive committee, and tireless sponsors.

Panels Accurate and Complete But Telltale Markings Remain

The telltale marks reveal the story—glue from head to foot, cut fingers, half-closed eyes. But there they are; every senior panel complete; every name correctly spelled; every picture in the right place.

Those pictures in the book look very small and unimportant now that the torture is over. Too bad they can't tell the "Inside Story" of the work it took to put them together—of the midnight hours spent in cell block 8, the maddening last minute changes, the furious hair-pulling sessions—all of which were necessary to make the people section possible.

For the seniors, these are the last pictures, a glorious ending to a wonderful four years. For the underclassmen it is another rung toward the top of the totem pole, another step for "tomorrow's" seniors!

Spring Fever Hits Peak for Seniors During Week of Fun and No Sleep

Spring fever became an epidemic when Senior Week approached. The "Moulin Rouge" costume party Monday night gave it a glorious send-off. Tuesday morning the talent show certainly proved that "There's No Business Like Show Business." That night the Marine Room at Linder's was the scene for the dinner-dance.

Noblesville became the center of attraction for the picnic Wednesday. In the evening we were entertained by the I. U. Variety Show, and we later attended the many private parties. Thursday afternoon the girls were guests at the A. A. U. W. tea. Thurday evening the activities ended to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance": a week of memories—and no sleep!

A last wistful look—Judy Cabrich and Larry Ehle, co-chairmen of the Senior Gift Committee, check the tired works of the office clock, presented by the Class of 1934. The class purchased a new clock this year.

Juniors Give Prom, Provide Queen Supply For 1956

Anchor's Aweigh was the theme for the annual Junior-Senior Prom sponsored by the class of '56. Anchors and life boats gave a sea-like atmosphere to Linder's Marine Room, and the Roofgarden lent a new air to the prom.

Many members of the class of 1956 have been outstanding during the past year. If the Prom queen and a dark haired junior, who reigned as the Silver Belle Queen, are examples, the school will have enough beauty queens to go around next year. The AHS coaching staff ended the year in aconfident mood, counting on many juniors in all sports next season.

Popcorn. candy, peanuts were among the juniors' chief candy stand selling items, but profits were anything but peanuts. The money gathered from sales financed a Prom that the senior class of 1955 will long and gratefully remember.

Almost Big Wheels—the Juniors have put forth a lot of extra effort to have a top-notch class.

Sophomores Hold First All-Class Party In History

The Sophomores started a new tradition by having an all-class party, the first event of its kind in the history of AHS. The event included dancing and several variety acts presented by members of the class.

At last the members of the class of '57 will be able to wear sweaters, pins, and rings of their own. They used their individuality in selecting aqua and white as class colars, also the first time the combination has been selected here.

Under the leadership of very capable officers and sponsors, the sophomores now move into the regions f the upperclass. With a membership of more than 700, the class is one of the largest in history. For the next two years AHS will be in the hands of a group that already has made its mark.

Freshmen Take Individual As Well As Class Honors

After the first few weeks of getting used to running from physical education class to 306 study hall, the freshmen class settled down to win several honors, both individually and as a class.

A short, blue-eyed blonde freshman was chosen as Homecoming Queen. An attendent to the Fall-Wind-Up queen was also a freshman lass. Two freshmen gals will be leading yells next year, and the AHS Indian Maiden is another freshman. There are indications that during the basketball season they will be cheering several of their classmates, members of a yearling squad that won 17 of 20 games.

In three years the burdens and more honors of the school will be theirs. Much talent already has been discovered in this class, and there is evidence of more. The best of luck to them in the three years to come.

SPORTS MOLD TOWN'S CHARACTER

Sports always have been known as builders of character in the competitors themselves, but in Anderson they are also the strongest molder of community character and spirit.

The spirit is seen in the eyes of the proud father as he watches his son in competition. And in the worldly-wise senior who forgets sophistication while yelling himself hoarse. It is found in memories of the old-time fans, those hardy souls who can quote a track meet record of 20 years ago or remember when the Indians won the state.

The day after a ball game is a good test of the influence of sport uptown. The barber shops are noisy after a victory, and morning coffee clubs linger over a second cup. The whole town is more vibrant.

Every community doesn't take to its sports in such a manner, but in Anderson the Wigwam and Denny Field are places where folks can relax, become young again, and recall faded high school dreams and deeds.

The 1955 Sectional crowd is just a small portion of the thousands of Madison Countians who have passed through the doors of the high school gymnasium to compete in their youth, to witness later, and to remember always.

Rugged Play, "T", and Pacing Coaches Part of Football Scene

Quarterback Jerry Shively fakes a handoff on the option play and sweeps wide around the Sacred Heart end with Gary Feurer (26) ready to throw a block. A squad minus 18 players fought its heart out before losing, 7 to 6.

Coach Jim Carter (hand on chin) paces along the sidelines in the lower left picture during the Marion game in which the Indians fumbled inside the 15-yard line three times as they lost 12-0. Coach Carter Byfield accompanies the head coach as usual. The two probably do more pacing than any other conference coach. In the lower right picture dads of the football players came out to root and evidently inspire their boys to a 44 to 13 rout of Elwood in the annual Dad's Day game. One group (L. to R.) included Mr. Bill Sebrees, Mr. Gerald Dodd Jr., Mr. Gerald Dodd Sr., Mr. Lloyd Stoner, and Mr. Elmer Anson.

Football Team Picks Opportune Moments for Key Victories

Anderson's unlucky Indian football team won just three games this season, but each of them came at an opportune moment.

First, the Tribe ended a ten-year victory famine against Richmond by routing the Red Devils, 20 to 7. The team did not win again until the annual Homecoming game before the largest crowd of the season, more than 4,000 students and alumni. Frankfort was the victim, 19 to 13.

Then the Indians picked Dad's Day for their best effort of the year, a 44 to 13 thumping of county-rival Elwood.

In between victories the team experienced a number of "heartbreakers", but great determination kept them from letting down.

Tribe Loses Opener, 20-19

The point after touchdown department cost the Tribe their opening game to Evansville Mater Dei, 20 to 19. The Cartermen showed plenty of spark and life on offense, but a few mistakes on defense proved their downfall.

Hard practice on defense was Coach Carter's strategy for the second game against the Richmond Red Devils. The extra work paid off as the Anderson gridmen defeated the Red Devils and put an end to ten years of Richmond victories. The so-called "pony backfield", consisting of Jim Leverette, Al Woods, and Ron Page, helped put Richmond to rest, 20 to 7.

When old rivals meet on a football field, something is bound to happen. This time it happened to the Indians as Muncie Central put on a 27 point scoring spree while Anderson collected only 7 points. Anderson's only marker came when an alert Indian guard, Jim Bridges, blocked a Muncie punt and fell on the ball in the end zone. The Indians started out with a sustained drive of 66 yards early in the first quarter but lost the ball on downs inside the 5-yard line. They were never in the game after that setback.

Homecoming Attracts 4,000 Fans

South Anderson field was almost filled with one of the greatest Homecoming crowds in history, more than 4,000 fans. They saw the Indians capture their second victory at the expense of the Frankfort Nighthawks, 19 to 13. Anderson's attack was led by Al Woods who scampered 58 yards for the first score. Later Ron Page carried the pigskin for 75 yards for the Indians second touchdown. The Anderson forward wall was outstanding on offense with Jack Coffin, Tom Pettigrew, Bill England, Jim Bridges, Nyles Anson, and all other linemen continually opening holes in the Frankfort line.

Anderson's next game became a battle of offensive teams. Both Howe and the Indians ran roughshod over each other's defenses, but Howe came out on the long end of the score, 33 to 20. The Tribe drew first blood but couldn't keep up the pace. The determining factor of the game turned out to be one Hornet back, Clif Oiler, the capital city's leading scorer in 1954.

Marion Field Resembles Mudpie

Football is a type of game that is to be played in any kind of weather. When the Indians met the Marion Giants, the playing field resembled a large mudpie. The Giants triumphed over the Tribe, 12 to 0. Three times the Indians were within the Giants 15-yard line. Three times the football was fumbled.

Indianapolis Tech's large front line set the Indians back for another defeat, 20 to 13. The Anderson backfield got off some brilliant efforts but all were in vain. Backs can usually pick up yardage from line blasts, but in this game it was like running into a brick wall.

The Indians gained their third victory at the expense of the Elwood Panthers on Dad's Day. The dads of the Indians must have done some first class inspiring because the Tribe walloped the Panthers, 44 to 13. The greatest run of the game came when Ron Page took the ball on a handoff and threaded the sideline, hurdling, and stepping over fallen Elwood defensive-men, for 25 yards and a touchdown. Page also turned in 60 and 68-yard runs for touchdowns. Jim Lutton, outstanding Indian quarterback, completed six of 12 passes.

On defense the Indians put on one of the best showings of the year, often meeting the Elwood backs on the line of scrimmage for no gains. Many times the Anderson linemen drift-ed through to catch the invaders for losses.

The following week Coach Carter was forced to suspend 18 football players for not obeying very important training and squad disipline rules. This shakeup did not mar the spirit of the remaining football players. Many of them made their first chance for varsity play one to remember.

Although they lost a close 7 to 6 game to Sacred Heart in a muddy tug-of-war, they captured the hearts of the Anderson fans by rolling up 21 first downs.

In years to come, the record will show a losing season for the 1954 campaign, but in the long run it really was a winning season. For the experiences and training received, foot-ball cannot be topped.

Reserves Have .500 Season but Learn Fundamentals Well

Anderson's junior varsity football players, under the guidance of Coach Ick Osborne, completed their season with four victories and four losses.

The Indians started out by winning three straight, over Marion, 20 to 7; Indianapolis Tech, 7 to 0, in a grueling defensive battle, and New Castle, 21-6.

Anderson then went into a mid-season slump, losing four games in a row before ending the season with a decisive 37 to 7 victory over Noblesville in the top offensive show of the year.

The Indian record was more remarkable since many times the reserves faced teams bolstered by varsity players, a practice not followed at AHS.

The close of the season saw an improvement in tackling and blocking, proving that the youngsters took their teaching well and will be ready for the varsity next year.

Coaches Bill Ameredes' and Don Barnett's freshman football team racked up the best AHS record on the gridiron this year, four victories, one tie, and one loss.

It took four games for an opponent to finally cross the Indians' goal line. Lafayette Jeff did it twice and broke a three-game freshman victory string with a 12 to 7 decision.

The yearlings had shut out Marion, New Castle, and won a forfeit from Muncie Central. After a 6 to 6 tie with county rival Elwood, the future varsity reached its peak with a four-touchdown victory over New Castle.

For the season the Tribe scored 74 points to its opponents 18.

Late Season Surge Nets Second Place in State Cross Country

Anderson High School's cross-country teams have been used to winning state championships under Coach Carl Bonge, but this year's squad, though runner-up in the state, probably should be ranked with the seven championship squads.

Varsity runners go through many limbering-up exercises before getting on the cross country course. Four Indians (L. to R.) Marvin Horton, Kim Parvis, Larry Tunget, and Dean Richards, help each other loosen up.

The team had only an average season, winning four meets and losing three. Then came the great awakening which netted a first place in the North Central Conference, a third in the sectional, and second place in the state meet.

Coach Bonge explains the Indians' sensational comeback thusly, "It was all a matter of determination on the boys' parts. They have had a good mental attitude all year, but it was at its highest peak in the state meet."

The Tribe lost its first contest to Marion, 26 to 30, after having to train in rainy weather for some time before the meet.

Indians Take Four Straight

With the advent of good weather the Indians went on a four-meet winning streak. It began with Indianapolis Tech and Howe, Muncie Burris, and reached a climax with a perfect score against Richmond, 15-47. Led by Jim Quinn, Gary Wilde, and Jim Hogg, the Indians swept the first five places before a Richmond runner finished.

In cross-country, scoring is based on the runner's finishing position; hence Anderson's first five finishers scored just 15 points, the lowest score possible.

Anderson Boasts Seven State Championships in Nine Years

The Indians could not stand prosperity it seemed, because they dropped their next two meets to Muncie Central and Indianapolis Shortridge, giving little indication of things to come.

Rumblngs began to eminate from the Tribal camp when the team swept to first place in the North Central Conference for the sixth time since the N. C. C. began competition seven years ago and gained revenge on several teams it had lost to during the season.

The following week the boys finished a disappointing third in the sectional. Again Jim Quinn and Gary Wilde placed high in the field but their efforts were not enough.

Quinn Second In State

Then came the state meet, with the Tribe relegated to the also-ran ranks by the experts. But Jim Quinn finished in second place and the team came up with its top performance of the year to take second place. Shortridge, victor over Anderson in a season meet, won the state title.

Coach Bonge will have most of his team back for next year. Only Jim Quinn, the Tribe's number one man, graduates.

The Anderson coach's comment when this fact is mentioned serves as a clew to the year-in and year-out quality of the cross-country teams. Coach Bonge said, "I can tell more about next year's material when the boys report for the first practice sessions in August." The Indians' coach takes nothing for granted, nor does he want to settle for anything loss than an eighth state championship.

Student manager Earl Reed prepares to time (L. to R.) Frank Norris, Jim Hogg, Don Wheeldon, and Bradley Rayl, as they start on a long jaunt on a typical training day.

Sectionals are always jampacked with excitement, color, and this year with joy as the Anderson Indians won for the first time in three years. The scoreboard (center picture) records the feat. The drum major and Indianettes (upper left) add to the exciting mood at a pre-tournament pep session. Basketball Team Sweeps to Decisive Sectional Championship

Anderson's varsity basketball team, stung perhaps by the loss of its usual pre-tournament favorite role, swept to one of its most decisive sectional championships, the first in three years.

The Indians routed the Frankton Eagles, 85 to 48, in the first game. Jim Lutton racked up 20 points, his largest scoring total of the season. A sophomore, Lucius Teague, who was brought up from the reserve team at the tail-end of the season, scored 19 points. The Indians missed a new sectional scoring mark by four points.

In the afternoon semi-final game Anderson faced its old sectional rivals, the Lapel Bulldogs. This time the Anderson fast break and a tight zone defense squelched any upset ideas, 58 to 42. Anderson then romped to a 67 to 45 victory over Markleville in the title game. Teague again took scoring honors with 19 points, and the team shot at a .391 clip.

The Indians outclassed the Madison County field in every department--rebounding, marksmansnip, and defensive skill. The man-killer schedule that saw the Tribe meeting team after team in the top ten of the Associated Press state poll proved to be the key to Anderson's impressive showing in the sectional.

At the Butler Fieldhouse in the regional the Indians opened against Speedway and its 6 foot, 8 inch, center, Bob Stewart. Speedway held a slim lead until the fourth quarter when Anderson started to hit from everywhere on the court while the Sparkplugs missed 15 straight shots. The final score was 46 to 43.

The championship game opponents were the Crispus Attucks Tigers. In the first quarter the Indians held their own as Del Sanders, the outstanding Anderson scorer in the regional, hit from the pivot and the foul line. The Tribe, playing a cat and mouse type of game that bothered the future state champions, trailed 16 to 15 at the quarter.

Attucks Beats Anderson

Only seven points separated the two teams at halftime, but the Tigers increased the pressure and won going away, 76 to 51.

Anderson went into the 1954-55 season with a new coach, Mr. Ick Osborne, a new style of play, and few returning lettermen.

Everyone expected the team to start slowly and were amazed to find the Tribe unbeaten after two weeks of play. Greenfield fell, 48 to 36; New Castle, 67 to 63, and Marion, 43 to 36. Had the fans checked the upcoming games they might have realized that it could not last.

Coach Osborne had installed a control type of game designed to spring the shooters open through a series of cuts and screens. For the Coach Ick Osborne is a man of varying moods, depending on the fortunes of his Indians, but the basketball on which he perches is an everpresent item at the Indian bench. The basketball good luck piece has been with Coach Osborne for many years, and who can say that it did not help the Indians to their first sectional crown in three years.

Season Introduces New Coach and Usual Tough Schedule

first month the Indians did nothing but work on simple fundamentals. Against equal physical opposition they were almost always successful. But the tallest man on the starting five was Captain Jim Leverette, standing 6 feet, 1 inch tall.

The Indians scheduled the tough ones. They lost four games in a row to Ft. Wayne Central, Lafayette Jeff, New Albany, and Muncie Central, all teams that were consistantly in the Associated Press' top ten teams.

Anderson finally edged Shortridge, 52 to 48, and Kokomo, 45 to 42, in a major upset in the Big Four Tourney, before hitting a shooting slump which was to plague them, off and on, until the tournament.

New Castle avenged an earlier defeat by plastering a 65 to 39 loss on Anderson in the Big Four final game. The Tribe rebounded against a weaker Shelbyville quintet, 63 to 59.

The season's real heartbreaker came when Tech defeated Anderson, 46 to 44, in the final seconds. An offensive charging foul gave Tech the two game—winning free throws.

Evidence of the fighting hearts of the Indians showed up in the game with the Columbus Bulldogs, then possessors of 11 victories in 12 games. The night before Anderson had been smothered by Muncie Central, 70 to 46, a game the team had been primed for. Nevertheless they swallowed hurt pride and upset Columbus, 61 to 56, in one of the best played games in the Wigwam.

Only one more regular season victory was to come to the Indians, a 46 to 43 triumph over New Castle, as the schedule began to tell. But rather than discourage, the schedule toughened the Indians, something Madison County teams found out a week after the regular season ended in the sectional tourney.

Nyles Anson (15) sets himself for a hook shot while Lapel's Charles Campbell (21), Jim Powers (15), and Bob Miller (21) stand transfixed with looks of horror, surprise, and helplessness. Anderson routed its old rival, 58-42, on the way to a sectional title.

Richard Stith leaps off the ground for a shot while Speedway's 6 foot, 8 inch center, Bob Stewart, merely stands on tiptoe in attempting to block the shot. Jim Lutton (12) readies himself for a rebound. This type of aggressiveness paid off as the Indians won, 46-43, in the opening game of the regional.

"B" Team Whips Junior Varsities of Most of State's Powers

One of the finest seasons in "B" team history was enjoyed by Coach Carter Byfield and his Papooses. The squad racked up 17 victories and lost only three times to the junior varsities of most of the state's basketball powers.

Should their mastery continue in varsity play the squad members will make up for the losses their older teammates have absorbed in the last few years. Reserve successes included victories over Muncie Central, New Castle, Shortridge, Ft. Wayne Central, New Albany and Columbus, whose varsity squads were all rated in the top ten of the Associated Press Poll.

The junior Indians also won the holiday tourney at New Castle, whipping New Castle, 39 to 26, and Muncie Central, 37 to 32.

Freshman Squad Highest Scoring Yearling Quintet in Years

The freshman basketball team scored more points this season than any other yearling squad Mr. Don Barnett has coached. The team finished with a record of 16 victories and four losses.

The record might have been more impressive had the high-scoring papooses scored eight more points, the total point difference in three losses. The frosh averaged more than 40 points a game for the season.

Coach Barnett, who installed the same offensive system that the varsity used, feels the boys are well grounded in fundamentals and that the entire squad is possessed with "very good shooting eyes."

Top marksman was Norman Delph who averaged more than 15 points a game. Ben Taylor hit at a 12.5 clip.

Varsity Wrestlers Win Share of First Sectional Championship

Propelled by a late season surge, the wrestling squad shared its first Sectional title, and Frank Norris won AHS's first individual championship.

Winners of only 5 of 13 season matches, the boys did a complete about face in tournament competition. The Indians were definite contenders in the state meet, with six qualifiers, until they lost the leadership of Coach Joe Sparks who became ill just before the state meet.

Tennis Team Makes Strong Challenge for North Central Crown

Anderson High School's tennis team, undefeated in North Central Conference play at publication time, went down to the wire with a chance for the championship. The overall record stood at six victories and two losses.

Team balance accounted for most of the triumphs, with points in the third, fourth, and fifth places coming more steadily. Before regular season firing the team members played each other to win their positions. Then if an Indian lost two matches in a row, he had to defend his position by playing the man below him before the next team match. This constant intra-squad competition is what kept the Indians hustling, Coach Dane Pugh feels.

After two straight losses, the Tribe won five matches in a row to become a challenger for the N. C. C. crown.

Three-Time N. C. C. Champion Golfers Shoot for Number Four

AHS's three-time North Central Conference golf champions, undefeated in dual competieion this year, were in the favorite's role once again at publication time.

So far this year the Indian golf team had won two-three way matches, five dual matches, and finished second by four strokes in the LaPorte Invitational tournament.

The team was led by Ted Boots, who had a 71.0 average up to date. The Anderson senior set a scoring record, a par 72, for the LaPorte tourney. Boots lost only one singles match all season. Other varsity golfers were Bill Goldsmith with a 77.1 average; Jim Overlin, 77.3; Larry Penry, 77.8, and Dave Brown, 78.0.

Anderson Baseball Team Takes Part in Four No-Hit Games

No-hit games, a rarity in baseball, were a dime a dozen for the Indian diamondmen who took part in four of them this season.

Jim Lutton became only the second AHS pitcher to pitch a no-hit, no- run game when he set Kokomo down, 11 to 0. The other author of a similar classic was Carl Erskine, now a Brooklyn Dodger pitcher.

Lutton almost had two in a row when he shut out Muncie Central, 5 to 0, on two hits in his next start.

Four Pitch No-Hitters

In the following game a trio of Anderson pitchers, Larry DeHority, Lucius Teague, and Norman Delph, combined to whip Noblesville, 13 to 0, without allowing a hit. Lucius Teague then threw another no-hitter against Greenfield in an 11 to 0 game.

In the opening game of the season the Indians were themselves blanked in the hit department by Keith Riggs, Cadiz fastballer, but took advantage of errors and walks to win, 4 to 0.

After a 4 to 2 loss to Hartford City, Anderson went on a three-game winning streak, whipping Noblesville, 7 to 1; Frankfort, 15 to Indians develop Big League mannerisms through practice—Showing the form which resulted in two no-hit, no-run games for the Indians (upper left) are Jim Lutton, Larry DeHority, Lucius Teague, and Norman Delph. All four had a hand in the two no-hitters with Lutton hurling a complete game. The Indians also participate in wind sprints (upper right). Five players racing across the infield are Don McCarty, Doug Talley, Darrel Young, Ron Shafer, and Jim Blades. Coach Hank Potter (lower left) instructs Barry Gaar and Ron Spall in the art of bunting, a method of attack the Indians used often this season. The strike zone is demonstated by strings hung over the plate (lower center). Jim Adams (with ball) is showing catchers Dave Sheedy, Wayne Weston, and Bob Erlandson a good pitch. Three Indians (lower right) play the familiar pepper game in a daily workout. They are Fred Simpson, Ernie Couch, and Jerry Shively.

Six Indian Regulars Hold Batting Averages of Better Than .300

Tribe Wins Four in Row

A 5 to 4 loss to Indianapolis Tech interrupted the skein, but the Indians were off on another four-game string, beginning with an 11 to 3 revenge triumph over Hartford City. and continuing with Lutton's no-hitter and shutout, and the three-man combination no-hitter. A 9 to 5 loss to Lafayette Jeff was absorbed at publication time.

Pitching wasn't the Indians' only strength this season. Six regulars were batting over .300 with Lucius Teague combing high school hurlers for 17 hits in 32 trips for a .531 average. Other heavy swingers were Barry Gaar, .370; Al Woods, .342; Nyles Anson, .333; Larry DeHority, .480, and Jim Adams, .333.

Boys With Desire, Little Experience, Play Intramural Baseball

Underclassmen who have the desire but not the experience get a chance in the AHS Intra-mural baseball league.

The boys are divided into two groups, the Americans and Nationals. This system takes the place of a freshman or "B" team since the coaches feel that total participation makes for a better program than league games which would single out too few fellows.

No one boy plays the same position twice in a row. He may move from the infield to the outfield. This gives the boy a chance to find himself in the right postion.

They don't have uniforms, but they love to play and fight to win. Coach Bill Ameredes, the umpire, can attest to the latter since he has as many rubarbs as any other umpire.

Tribe Consistantly Won Dual Meets, Placed Second in Relays

Anderson's track squad was the model of consistancy this season, winning the dual meets and finishing second in most of the meets with multi-entrants.

The team won four of five dual meets, finished second in the Muncie Relays, Kokomo Relays, and the Sectional, and fifth in the conference meet.

Opening meet of the season was indoors at the Hoosier Relays at Indiana University. No team scores were kept but Anderson's sprint medley relay team of Rex Boys, Bob Brooks, Dick Stith, and Jim Hogg set a meet record, and the two-mile relay team of Tom Capozzoli, Dean Richards, Henry Clayton, and Jim Fleece took a first.

In dual meet competition the Tribe dropped its opener to Muncie Central, a state powerhouse, 56 to 53. Anderson then reeled off four victories over Richmond, Indianapolis Tech, Marion and Kokomo. The Tech meet was decided by one-third of a point, 54⅔ to 54⅓.

Keith Stapley, who along with Mike Johnson vaulted 12 feet this season, goes over the bar at a slightly lower height in a dual meet at Marion. An offical watches tensely.

Nine Individuals and Both Relay Teams Qualify for Regional

Sandwiched between the dual meets were the Muncie and Kokomo Relays. The Tribe finished second in each, and, although fifth in the N.C.C. meet, Anderson had four firsts.

In the sectional Anderson qualified nine men and both relay teams for the regional. Jim Hogg won the 880-yard run in 2 minutes, 2.3 seconds, and Jim Leverette took the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 2½ inches. Other qualifiers were Ron Page, Del Sanders, Jim Quinn, Rex Boys, Charles Harrison, Keith Stapley, and Mike Johnson.

VARIED ACTIVITIES MEET LIFE'S NEEDS

Anderson is one of the most organized towns in central Indiana, possessing legions of clubs—civic, social, religious, and fraternal. An awareness of this social structure is quite naturally acquired by high school students, and they have highly organized AHS through clubs and extra-curricular activities.

And this is as it should be for man is basically an organizer and needs others in order to exist.

Besides serving as training grounds for students in later life, AHS clubs, musical groups, and dramatic organizations perform services for the community all year long.

Civic groups contribute scholarship, prizes, and recognition to students, but more important serve as a lesson in living and getting along with one's neighbors. And students seem to be learning the lesson well for each year they go out into the community, become joiners, and eventually finer Anderson citizens.

Civic organizations invite students to many of their activities. Jerry Kimball, selected as one of the junior Rotarians, talks with Mr. Ed Flanagan, Rotary Club president, and Mr. John Showalter, secretary, before the AHS senior spoke at a dinner meeting.

Anderson High School is rich in theatrical tradition and nowhere is this more evident than on the signature-scarred walls backstage in the auditorium. Thespians Dick Monroe and Marcia Barron (standing) continue the custom of inscribing their names during a scenery-painting session. Craig Campbell and Ann Gehrke (seated) pause from their work to watch two more names being added to the AHS dramatists' honor roll.

Student Council Has Definite Governing Job in High School

Student Council officers—Pat Dixon, reading clerk; Pat Stratton, secretary; Dan Davisson, president; Carol Fisher, corresponding secretary. Standing: Dave Schuster, parliamentarian; Jack Macy, vice-president.

Student Council has a definite governing job in Anderson High School. A student from each homeroom represents his classmates in the council for a year.

Sponsors at the beginning of the year were Mrs. Helen Hughes and Mr. Harry McGoon. When Mr. McGoon resigned because of illness, Mr. James Hunt accepted the appointment.

The Council backed the first formal dance of the year, the Fall Wind-Up. It also put on two Sock Hops after basketball games and sponsored the Variety Show, contributing the proceeds to the band for its trip to Washington, D.C.

Social events, while the spectacular projects of the Council, are hardly its most important function. The weekly meetings in Room 207 give students a chance to practice democracy, experience its problems, and glory in its successes.

Honor Society Boasts Students High in Scholarship and Activities

Members of the National Honor Society probably are among the most active students in AHS. Besides compiling high scholarship marks, the large majority is active in clubs, sports, and other extra-curricular activities.

Honor society students are chosen on the basis of qualities other than scholarship. Leadership, service, and character are also considered. Minimum scholastic requirements include the acquistion of 36 credit points at the beginning of the junior year, based upon 3 points for an "A", 2 points for a "B", and 1 point for a "C". A "D" or "F" average will disqualify a student.

The society had some outstanding events of its own. One was a formal candlelight initiation of new members in the fall. Thirteen members also took the National Society's scholarship test, the first time the test has been given here.

Orchestra and Concert Band Add Color to School Assemblies

Band officers tune up—(L. to R.) Bill Duncan, secretary; Dave Ball, captain; Joe Allman, first sergeant; Herb Cappel, treasurer.

Convocations and pep sessions seem to have added dash and color this year as a result of the efforts of the AHS Orchestra and Concert Band.

The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Clem, presented an inspiring convocation and also played for the Senior Class Play. Early in the fall the group sat in on a rehearsal of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra which proved to be helpful in later experience through the year.

The Variety Show was the highlight of the year for the Concert Band, directed by Mr. George Vaught. This show was sponsored by Student Council and all the proceeds went toward the trip which the band took to Washington D. C.

Latin Club Brings Back Touch of Roman Pomp and Pageantry

The peak in activity for the AHS Latin Club came this Spring when more than 125 grade and high school students in the garb of Roman citizen or slave attended the annual banquet of the club at the First Methodist Church.

The boys in tunics and togas and the girls in stolas ate "Aper Coctus" (Baked Ham) and other Latin-named foods with their fingers just as the old Romans did.

Joe Crouse served as state president of the Junior Classical League, and Mary Sue Stayton will act as vice-president next year. Mike Maine is Indiana's nominee for national president of the league.

Another highlight was the visit of Dick Page, national president of the Junior Classical League. With more than 160 members Latin Club is the largest club in the school, proof enough that Latin still lives.

Latin students initiated—Neophytes offered apples to the gods of Rome and underwent other ritual at the Latin Club's annual initiation. Parents assisted in serving refreshments. At the serving table were (L. to R.) Mrs. George Davis, Ann Davis, Diana Watson, and Mrs. Charles Watson.

Few Old-Timers Recall Christmas Without Hi-Y Line of Dimes

Hi-Y Officers hold Coca-Cola caucus — (L. to R.) Jerry Kimball, secretary; Paul Keller, sergeant at arms; Bob McAllister, treasurer; Dave Brown, vice-president, and Barry Garr, president.

Even many long-time Anderson residents cannot remember a Christmas season without the Hi-Y Club's "Line of Dimes" drive and party for underprivileged children.

The annual event began 17 years ago and has served as the only Christmas cheer for 500 children each year. Club members collected $574.80 on a street corner drive, enlisted the aid of local merchants who contributed toys, candy and fruit, and then entertained the youngsters at a huge party.

Service is only part of the Hi-Y story. The club helped to sponsor the Y. M. C. A. intramural basketball league. It's members were leaders in many school social events. Outstanding men in the community spoke at each weekly club meeting.

But it is the "Line of Dimes" that a grateful community remembers most—a day when the high school boys become men in their community.

Crowd of 1500 Attends Torch Club's Easter Sunrise Service

Torch Club performed many activities throughout the year, but the most important to the community was the annual Easter Sunrise Service at Shadyside Park.

More than 1,500 Andersonians witnessed the annual service which provides a lot of fun and work that the boys enjoy. Members of Torch Club serve as ushers, make all necessary arrangements, and participate in the worship service.

Club members meet each week to hear well-known Anderson citizens discuss their vocations and interests. The Rev. Kenneth Lodge, who gave the benediction at the Sunrise Service, also was a speaker at a weekly meeting.

Open to any freshman or sophomore boy, the club gives underclassmen a chance to develop leadership early. Qualifications for entrance are based on scholarship, character, and leadership.

Red Sweater, Green Letter Identify Members of "A" Club

The entire student body recognizes quickly that famous red sweater with the large green "A" in the center and also knows that getting one of these signifies an honor in some field of sport.

Members of "A" Club may be found in many school activities and courses, but all of them have won an "A" letter award in at least one major sport.

Out of the 65 members of "A" Club several boys will receive Indianhead awards which signify that they have won letters in three major sports or have made honor roll and have two letters.

At the end of the year the members of "A" Club honor one boy who they believe has done the most to better AHS in the field of sports.

A-Club Officers relax in Indian Training Room—Nyles Anson, vice-president; Larry DeHority, president; Bill England, secretary and treasurer; and Tom Pettigrew, sergeant at arms.

Gaiety, Tempered by Service, is Keynote of Y-Teen Clubs

Gaiety and companionship were the keynotes of Senior Y-Teens and its three underclass counterparts, but the clubs' service projects were not forgotten in the whirl of activities in 1955.

Top social event was the annual Silver Bell dance, with lesser events being held by each club throughout the year.

Two projects stood out on the service front. The "Mile of Pennies," which consists of a tedious collection of funds on street corners and through projects handled by Senior Y-Teens, went to underprivileged families overseas.

During the Easter holidays members made up baskets of food and toys for the children at the Park Place School for handicapped.

Thespians' Opening Night Thrills Worth All the Struggle

All beginning actors and actresses experience stage fright, but after the first opening night the fright is subdued by the thrill that comes from acting to a full house.

The road to becoming a Thespian is not easy. It takes talent and hard work. To qualify as a member of National Thespian Society an apprentice must earn ten pointss, representing 100 hours of theatre work.

Chief projects this year were the children's play, "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater," and "Ever Since Eve."

John Mitchell prepares to "ad lib" a kiss from the feminine lead of "Ever Since Eve," Darline Blackwell. Darline's boyfriend of the play, Dick Monroe, is about to take positive action.

Future Retailers' Named "Best D. E. Club in Indiana" in 1955

Future Retailers officers display state championship plaque—Ellen Hitchcock, historian; Rhona Stephens, secretary; Norman K. Jones, president; Sherry Couch, treasurer; David Schuster, vice-president.

AHS's Future Retailers Club won a state championship this year, being named the "Best Distributive Education Club in Indiana" at the annual state convention.

A five-student delegation also attended the national convention of D. E. clubs in Richmond, Va., in the spring.

Membership in the Future Retailers Club is limited to students studying distributive education. These students attend school in the morning and train in a retail, wholesale, or service establishment in the afternoon.

At the state meeting the Anderson group won more than 20 individual awards in judging display windows and sales demonstrations, in public speaking, job application, and advertising planning. The club, in existence only since 1952, is one of the most successful in the high school.

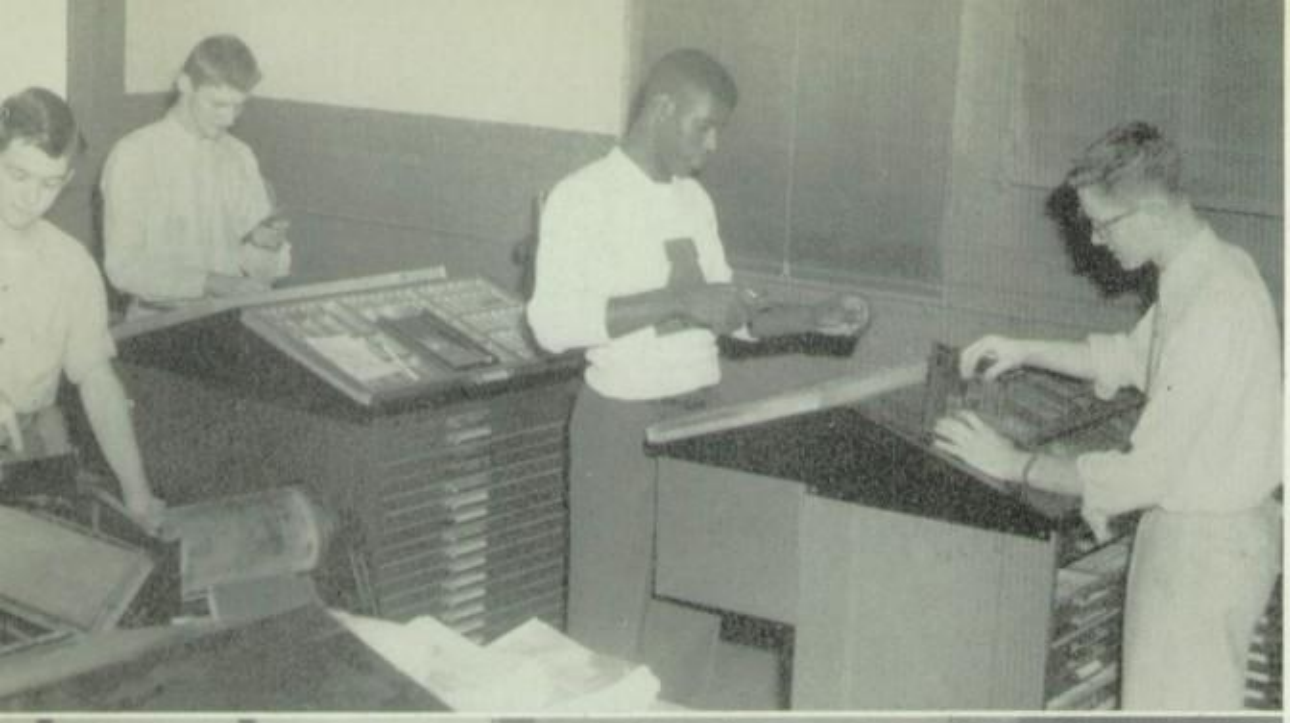
Future Farmers' Aim is to Take Guesswork Out of Farming

Anderson's chapter of the National Future Farmers of America is open to all agricultural students. The main aim is to take the guesswork out of farming by teaching better farming methods and promoting farm cooperation. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Horace Wilson, agriculture teacher, this organization has accomplished many wonders in its 20-year history at AHS.

Among projects handled by the local F. F. A. are the stock-judging contests between county schools, breeding and raising animals, and exhibiting prize stock in the State Fair.

There are various awards available to the "Aq" boys. The A. W. H. Hardy Cup is given each year to the outstanding boy, and scholarships are presented to winners in judging contests.

Future Farmer officers get practical farm experience--Seated, Don Odom, president. Standing, Jim Waymire, secretary; Charles Stephenson, sergeant at arms; Jerry Swinford, vice-president.



Backbone of the Print Shop is the Job Case—Every printing student has to learn to hand set type from the job case, in which type is arranged in the order of most use. Dave Hudson (left) is preparing to take a proof of some type set by Blythe Watkins, Jim Leverette, and Dave Sheedy.

AHS Print Shop Produces Publications for Entire School City

Machines manned by students produce printed matter for the school city—At the left Jack Hollis takes type from linotype machine operated by Deryle Martin. The work could be for any one of hundreds of forms, schedules, and publications produced by the school shop under the direction of Mr. Claude P. (Doc) Barner. In the center picture three students, Herbert DeWitt, Earl Silcox, and Gerald Bodkin, operate a Heidelberg job printing press, which can turn out 4,500 items an hour. In the last picture Bob Fullington, Mr. Barner, and Jim Smith adjust "Old Faithful," a flat bed press that has printed the high school newspaper and annual for 15 years. The press was the 5,903rd built by the Miehle Company and must be more than 40 years old.

Ushers, Cadets Aid in Control of Crowds and Parking

Two groups of boys who have a great deal to do with keeping crowds and traffic in the congested high school area from assuming chaotic proportions are the Ushers Club and Parking Cadets.

One can only imagine what the morning rush for parking spaces would bring if the Cadets were not there to direct the student parking. They receive jackets for their fine work.

The Ushers Club consists of a larger number of boys and yet has a job which calls for more help. They keep order during sports events or activities held in the gymnasium.

G. A. A. Emphasizes Sports with Value in Later Life

Twice each week after school a group of young ladies meet for a session of athletics under the title of Girls Athletic Association.

Contrary to the belief of some these sessions are not a tom boy's attempt to play such boy's sports as basketball and baseball. This year the group has emphasized sports with carry-over value in later life.

The girls gave increased attention to tennis, golf and badminton, all sports that would enable them to tag along with a boy friend or future husband later.

BUSINESS UNITES STUDENTS, TOWN

What would a job at one of the city's industrial plants be like? Students find out through visits to business and industry for an entire Career Day each Spring.

Few other communities can show such a close bond between students, local business, and industry. Lacking lunch room facilities AHS students must depend on the downtown restaurants every noon. They spend many dollars in the community. They provide a huge part-time sales force which local business utilizes during holiday shopping rushes.

The relationship is a two-way proposition. Students are able to earn money because business and industrial people have confidence in them and will hire them.

Finally high school students provide a loyal and specialized market. Merchants advertise in the high school newspaper and the yearbook with this specific market in mind. And students, more than any other group, shop in Anderson. They are loyal to a community which has been good to them.

Future Retailers at Anderson High School learn the fundamentals of marketing and sales in classrooms and in on-the-job training in businesses in the community. Christina Clanin, Linda Mitchell, and Jane Gallamore are studying modeling techniques during one of the class sessions.
